BATJARGAL DOLGORSUREN

PhD (graduated in the spring 2019) at Kyung Hee University, South Korea.

Research Interests: Graph Theory, Streaming/Dynamic Graph, Big Data, Bioinformatics

Graph Compression and Summarization

The research activities in DKE lab are intensively focused in the Graph Compression and Summarization techniques towards graph based data like Social Networks, Transportation Networks, Chemical and Biological compounds etc. My research intentions are to efficiently identify the graph sparsification in a large density graph.

Shortest Paths Computation

In graph theory, we are investigating and developing techniques/algorithms to efficiently compute all kind of Shortest Paths in a graph. Our study is focused to solve the online/offline shortest path problems.

Graph Sparsification

We are working on graph sparsification, constructing cut sparsifiers in undirected graphs weighted subgraphs for which every cut has the same weight as the original graph. We simplify, unify and improve upon previous sparsification results. We are also trying to find out best approach for time evolving community structures in Streaming/Dynamic networks.
